

Heart Counting Game

Tuesday, 17 February 2009

Make this simple game for preschoolers.

Materials Needed:

Construction Paper

Glue or Stickers

Instructions:

Cut larger heart shapes out of construction paper. Cut the hearts in half. On one half of the heart, write a number. On the other half of the heart, place a corresponding amount of smaller hearts (made from construction paper). You can also use stickers instead of cut out hearts. Make as many puzzle pieces as you want. Use these for younger kids to match the correct number of hearts or pictures with the numbers.
