

Cupid's Arrow

Tuesday, 17 February 2009

You could also do this project with a heart cut out on cardboard or some other sturdy material!!

What you Need:

One roll of Wild Cherry Livesavers Candy

6 inch bamboo skewer

1 - 1 1/2 inch wooden heart

Drill with a small drill bit

Piece of red foil paper approximately 1 1/2 inches long and 5 inches wide.

Transparent tape

Scissors

Craft glue

Red paint and paintbrush

What to Do:

Drill a small hole in the heart's indentation. Paint the heart red and set it aside to dry.

Fringe the foil paper by cutting narrow strips along the width, about 1 inch deep.

Apply a small amount of the transparent tape to one end of the uncut portion of foil paper.

Attach tape to blunt end of skewer.

Twist foil paper around skewer and fasten with another piece of tape to form the arrow feather.

Finishing: Poke pointed end of bamboo skewer through center of candy roll, apply dot of glue to tip of skewer and secure into hole in painted heart